

The Power of Theatre in ECE: Building Flexible Communication and Collaboration

Presented By:
Bobbi Kidder

About this course:

Join us for a hands-on introduction to Briskworks Storytheatre, a form that nourishes imagination, builds confidence in creative competence, enhances understanding of the collaborative process, increases a sense of community, and helps fine-tune the art of empathy and kindness. Participants will engage in special focus sessions in vocal articulation and projection, improvisation, and storytelling—and explore ways to integrate these strategies in early childhood settings.

About Bobbi:

Briskworks founder and director, Bobbi Kidder, MA, RDT/BCT is emeritus faculty at Rogue Community College and taught at Antioch University Seattle and the Northwest Creative and Expressive Arts Institute. She teaches workshops and classes as well as facilitating intergenerational projects.

She is author of IMAGINaction, a guide to using drama in classrooms and other settings. Bobbi values improvisational skills and believes that having a clear understanding of the utility of imagination will promote a committed pursuit of its potential.
